

Americana Series

C&A Furniture launches an affordable series made out of thermofused melamine by Panolam (Nevamar.) Panolam panels provide strength and dependability and are known throughout the industry as being the best of class.

Americana Series melamine provides real wood grain, consistent look, freestanding pedestals and non handed, modular design. Currently, it is available in light cherry finish called Glenn Cherry. Additional finish options of darker, Wild Cherry, and light, Fusion Maple, will be available shortly.

It is fully made in the USA with dry technology, so the carbon footprint is minimal. As with any C&A series, there is no waste and the environment is taken into consideration.

Free of formaldehyde and as opposed to many imports, the material has not been treated with dangerous chemicals. When considering Americana, you know we stand behind the quality proven by 20+ years of experience.
